May 2, 2018 – The province announced changes to Manitoba Student Aid to streamline the process and help more students. More than $8.6 million in new supports will be available for students as of the 2018-19 program year.

Education and Training Minister Ian Wishart announced that the provincial government is streamlining the application process for Manitoba Student Aid and Manitoba Bursary to help more low-income and Indigenous students access funding.

"We're introducing a simplified user-friendly service model that is more predictable so students can save and budget accordingly," said Wishart. "With easier access to loans and bursaries, we expect more students to enroll in postsecondary education, which opens doors to success. Plus, students can continue to work while they're in school, as we will no longer scale back loans or bursaries because of employment.".

The province plans to distribute up to $8.6 million in additional loans for the 2018-19 program year.

Based on changes by the federal government to the Canada Student Loan program, the province is implementing the following changes:

- a fixed student contribution rate for student loans and grants,
- a three-year Skills Boost pilot program to top-up adult learners with $200 per month, and
- an exclusion of First Nations band funding as part of the student financial assessment so more Indigenous students are eligible for grants.

The fixed contribution model requires students to pay a set amount between $1,500 and $3,000 per academic year, based on income.

The former system required students to estimate their earnings and financial assets to determine their contribution, which was time-consuming and required substantial document verification. However, there may be an increase in appeals due to the fixed contribution amounts.

Currently there is no document to appeal the fixed contribution and one may not be forth-coming; only a Request to Review Expected Parental Contribution is available at this time. We may see a change to the appeal and change reporting forms available in June, when the 2018-19 program is launched. The forms are available here: http://www.edu.gov.mb.ca/msa/forms.html

Students who apply for Manitoba Student Aid are automatically considered for Manitoba Bursary, an upfront grant up to $2,000 per school year available to low-income students, as well as the federal Canada Student Grant of up to $3,000.

The province is increasing Manitoba Bursary by $2.7 million to a total of $13.2 million this academic year by redirecting under-used bursaries and grants to be distributed more equitably among students. This includes:

- $1 million for a top-up grant ($500 to $1,500) to approximately 750 low-income Indigenous students this upcoming school year; and
- $1.7 million to expand eligibility to approximately 150 students at Manitoba's private religious institutions and 900 out-of-province students at Canadian institutions, of which $870,000 will be used to increase bursary amounts to student aid recipients as a result of the fixed contribution model.

Types of Funding Available for Out-of-Province Students:

- Canada Student Loan (CSL)
- Manitoba Student Loan (MSL)
- Canada Student Grants (CSG) for Students from Low-Income Families, Middle-Income Families & for Students with Dependents
- Canada Student Grant for Students with Permanent Disabilities
- Canada Student Grant for Services and Equipment for Students with Permanent Disabilities
- Aboriginal Education Award helps Indigenous students with the costs of tuition, books and supplies. Visit: Business Council of Manitoba – Aboriginal Education Awards
- Medical Student/Resident Financial Assistance Program Grant Note: Full-time practice (minimum 40 hours a week) is required in Manitoba. For more information visit: Medical Student Financial Assistance Program

No Longer Available:

- Prince of Wales/Princess Anne Award was available to eligible Canadian Indigenous students who are studying in Canada.
- Aboriginal Medical Student Financial Assistance Program Grant As part of the changes to the Manitoba Bursary, Manitoba will be phasing out the Aboriginal Medical Student Financial Assistance Program (AMSFAP). Beginning August 1, 2018, students pursuing their medical studies may be eligible for the newly enhanced Manitoba Bursary, if they apply for financial assistance through Manitoba Student Aid.

You may also qualify for other funding through the "Bursary for Students with Disabilities and the Canada Student Grant for Services and Equipment for Students with Disabilities".
